I have to be honest. I have been neglecting my man-thing. I don't give my man-thing nearly enough attention. In a perfect world, I could spend all day and all night just pounding away on my man-thing, but I can't work on my man-thing at my job, and I have to sleep sometimes. I need to set some time aside...some "quality time", with just me and my man-thing. Anyway, as soon as I'm done with it, I'll let you all see my man-thing.

Sounds like a personal problem, so when are you going to start talking about your manip? LOL
