Honestly, I would like to see Nightwing in the JLA again. I was really thrilled when he lead them during the obsidian age storyline. I would also like to see Martian Manhunter, but thats just because if he's not in the leauge then he's not going to be seen. I would say Captain Marvel, but I understand some wierd stuff going on with him.

As for the ladies, I'm glad Supergirl's going to be included. I really can't think of any other women I would want to see. It's not that there arent any female characters that aren't deserving, I just can't think of any I'd personally want to see there.
