We are soon going to be opening the 2d lady heromorph section of the Lady Heromorph challenges and will have a challenge for line artists but we will also have one for colorists.

We need you help, For the colorists challenge I was hoping to get a number of images drawn by our very own heromorph pencilers and artists. If you have some art in our galleries that you would like to have as a part of the challenge please respond to this post and let us know if we can use your art.

Thank you
