hey vl, i posted a firestarr, in the 3d gallery ..also i think the link neil posts are just to give the person an idea of wut the model looks like,, i have been there with his links.. and i had to try to find a better pic..maybe in the future neil you should try to find a better pic of the model you want manniped to make it easier on the artist,i know when i do a manip which are few and far between i like a base thats large ,a full body shot,nude cause its alot easier to manip over a nude base.. but then again my manip skills are poor...anyways just keep these things in mind when your posting model links
