My idea of a manip is to take a person and make them look as REALISTIC in their superclothes as possible. While many manips look beautifully done (smooth skin and all) they tend to look a bit airbrushed. That's great for magazines and posters, but I want my manips (and I know I still have a LONG way to go) to look like the person was right in front of me dressed in the costume and I snapped a pic of them with a high quality camera. My goal isn't necessarily to produce the most beautiful and perfect manips but rather to produce the most realistic looking ones that I can.
