OK everyone, less than a week to go and we still need some round 2 images.

as per the rules of the smackdown Quote:

rule # 2. Images that are off script will be put in a new section that you may have noticed called ?Fun related image (not part of the contest):? now these images will not be included in the write up at the end of the month as they are off script. Think of them as what ends up on the cutting room floor before they air the actual episode. These images will not be voted on. You must do at least one on script image per month to stay in the contest.

your characters survival and your standing in the contest depend on it.

the following characters have not had their artists provide an "on script" image for this round to ensure their survival.

Batgirl - Petercotton

Brianna Diggers - Exador

Tex Mason - TartanNinja

Fire - Android - due to services providing the Lady Heromorph image for this round, a free pass to the next round will be given to Android.

you have until the end of the month to post your "on script" images. or your character will be allowed to suffer the fate the others artists can imagine and you will be removed from the contest.

Round 3 to start in September. !!!
