Settle down, Tiny.

Seriously though dude, other than the one image in my castle, most of your images are barely on script, other than the fact they're set in England and use smackdown characters. You're crying about people ignoring the script? I don't remember seeing anything in there about an army of zombies(including one character that hadn't even been killed off yet). I'm just saying, simply by the fact that he at least mentioned the storyline in the description, BB3's picture is more on script than most of yours.

Think next time before you go throwing around accusations of 'unfair treatment'.
