I like Hreomorph. I like it a lot.

When I first started to visit the site I enjoyed all of the wonderful art but felt I had no talant for it. I finally gave it a shot and got some positive comments. I bought a photoshop program and did some more art and received some more positive comment and helpful tips.

I now try to do new things and keep posting when I can. Thank you Heromorph for bringing out what little artistic talent I have and for the encouragement. I will stay with Heromorph as long as you will have me and continue to comment on other peoples work and post my own as I finish it.
