I describe the vest as being form fitting, like a second skin. Maybe like the ones they wore in the second Charlie's Angels movie. I'm not too strict on the outfit because it's not a permanent thing in the story. She's wearing a tight black bodysuit with the vest over it and knee high black boots.

Anyone who is willing to do this picture for me can take liberties with the costume.

The important things are the blades. So long as that's there she could either be:

1. long hair and no scar
2. short hair and scar

She gets the scar in the story. If it's easier to give her long hair due to base pictures or render programs, that's fine by me.

T, I like what I can see in your first image. All I would change with what you have so far is making the top not shiny. I really do like it, especially the pose. Does that help?
