Hello Heromorph!

I have a new and exciting way we are going to have fun here at HM. Of course there may be casualties in my wake. Each day two images chosen at Random will be put up against each other in a battle to the death. Well not really to the death, but there will be a poll. and the winner of the poll will carry on to the Next day! and the end of the Week the last winner will be declared the Weeks champion and the image and the artist will get some extra exposure.

Check Back daily and vote, you will never know what image will be next.

Check this forum each day for a new image showdown!!
