

Forum: HM General Chit Chat

Topic: New Doctor Who announced!

Subject: Re: New Doctor Who announced!

Posted by: Wolf

Posted on: 2009/1/11 17:54:57

Quote:

JrMcDeath wrote:

Wait.....WHO?

Thanks, JR, for your 2-words worth.

This was on Yahoo News Blog at 2048hrs, 11 Jan 2009:

Dr Who sidekick may be a Kiwi

Sunday News | Sunday, 11 January 2009

Email a Friend | Printable View | Have Your Say

IN THE RUNNING: Kiwi actress Gina Bellman is reportedly in the running for the role as Doctor Who's assistant.

Related Links

Dr Who? BBC chooses newcomer

Subscribe to Archivistuff

Have your say

Advertisement

AdvertisementThe latest Doctor Who, Matt Smith, will have a new assistant when he steps into the Tardis next year and she could very well have a Kiwi accent.

Rumours of who it will be began after the shock announcement that virtual unknown Matt, 26, will take over as Time Lord from David Tennant early in 2010.

Gina Bellman, 42, from New Zealand, who has appeared in Jekyll and Coupling, is a favourite for the coveted role.

Other names being tossed about include former EastEnders star Michelle Ryan and Carey Mulligan who played Sally Sparrow in a previous Doctor Who episode.

The BBC is likely to keep its choice of his helper as secret as the name of the new Time Lord.

Millions of people worldwide watch Doctor Who every week to get their dose of science fiction.

Personnely, I'm leaning towards Carey Mulligan. First off, She knows he's a time traveler...2nd, kinda cute , and, 3rd, tall guy / short girl...good match-up! Also, she's closer in age to Matt Smith, being 24 yrs old.

Any thoughts, Was or Yunners? ( Gee...our own private little thread! 'Who'd' of thought...
)