Alright, so as every one has noticed. I'm not very into the consecutive I'm doing. I don't know much about the story and let's face it not matter how hard I try to do horror, it comes out too soft.

I have another consecutive already done. I have not used it because it is the beginning of my seven year story.

To me the art is much better, more interesting, and the story instantly grabs you. plus there is a half naked woman.

I have seriously considered using this as the last part of my portfolio, so I can finally give it to Jinky.

But I am afraid that the story and characters may be taken be whomever I send the portfolio to.

*So here are my questions:

Should I continue the old consecutive or use my original story?

Jinky did you use Banzai girl?

Will it be taken?

If all think I should then it will be up and done with and we can all go on with our lives. No more of that stupid Zombie consecutive.

Anyway this project is my baby and I'm hesitant.

So I wanted to ask everyone to get a general opinion.

If everyone agrees to use it then it WILL NOT go up on Heromorph. I will post a link to my online portfolio.

Much love as always,
