LOL Jr....

I'm not really excited about CS5. I just got into CS4 and the whole "delete" and everything's done for you thing is insulting. I'm proud of the work I do to re-touch. I use Photoshop to aid my talents, and don't want being known as a Photoshop user to mean I'm lazy.

I did a total photo restoration for NAPP 10 years ago and it took me days to do it... now, with CS5, I could have done it in a "click". This really does bother me. I have always wanted Photoshop to be a tool for professionals... now they have made it to where a 3 fingered monkey can create art.

Damn you adobe for being so cool!
