What are you using daz for? Are you rendering the body and then adding a head and manipulating the poser figure?

I didn't read the entire thread, but the few images I looked at didn't look like you used a 3D program.

Of course I am chiming in way late in the conversation.

As for content... I have no clue.

First thanks for response

Yes i make the 3d model first then then adding a head and manipulating the poser figure in Photoshop

Here is my work (You can totally know it 3d)
