Your maniping skills are good. I don't see a 3D model in the images you provided. (That is a plus) But I wouldn't worry about DAZ and I would find the poses you like in other images and make your manips. You seem to be wasting a lot of time worrying about 3D content when you could be working on simple manips. When (and if) I do manips, it is all about the pose and then I worry about the head and clothes. You aren't going to find the 3D content you are looking for with teh clothes. Get an image you like and manip it!

Also... your images are way to small. Make them BIG!!! None of us like to see tiny winy images. It is all about pretty BIG images. Get them done!
