Over the Coarse of the time from now to the end of the year, I will be doing Spring Cleaning in the Forums, removing dead threads, duplicate topics. Rearranging and moving important topics.

Warning:

if you care about your post count, get over it. This WILL fluctuate and drop. If you have a problem with your post count dropping, I do not want to hear about it and complaining will not be tolerated.

I do this to help the site, not to start form of two year old bickering.
