I am sorry, but you keep saying you are on a budget. Daz has weekly freebies, renderocity has monthly freebies and thousands of pages of free stuff updated daily, as does sharecg. and there are easily at least 5-10 more sites that offer free props and tutorials to improve. granted a medical caregiver does take a lot of your time. As does being a stay at home father of 3, that is a 24 hour a day job with an average of 3-4 hours sleep a day. It may take me longer to create an image, but i still do while looking for ways to improve my work.

I will offer what advise I can to help you.
