I'm gonna have to go in a different direction.

1st off just to see the TMNT on the big screen and not cartoon is something I'm up for. I think that judging y the trailer, we are gonna have to go open minded with it. I mean I can't even remember what the Transformers used to look like in the 90's. Mike seems like is gonna have his hilarious attitude. They are big, so I'm guessing there is gonna be some hard kicking action packed fights, look at how good the transformers look while fighting. Megan Fox, I really don't know why the dislike, me personally like Megan she is one hot babe... I haven't really seen her in any other movie other than Transformers and that awesome music video Love The Way you lie. So I really want to see this one....
