Ok...give up the link lessons. I watch the posting video and looked for posting instructions. I tried copy/paste. It didn't work. What exactly did I do wrong?

But now I think it's just he didn't do his link lessons right.

you can not link to an image on your own computer the image must be online on a server that will allow hotlinking.

to properly hotlink an image find the image address online. for example we will use this image <http://members.shaw.ca/winterhawk2/Bold-Comics-Studio.gif> method one:copy the web address of the image.

then when posting click the IMG button above the text area of the post.

Paste the image address into the mini-popup the appears. then click OK. set the position then click OK again. Done.

method two: Copy the web address of the image. type [ img ] then the web address of the image followed by [ /img ] (please note do not have spaces between the img and the []'s as it will not work.)
