Well not only does it appear that people do not read the posting policy but they also do not read the site rules section in the forums. WOW big surprise.

Please read this thread and remember, we clean out the galleries 2 times per year. If you do rush jobs, poor scans, crappy color blobs, bad head or face swaps, Multiple copies of the same image. They will be removed.

Do not repost them, they were removed for a reason. If we wanted you to repost them for one reason or another, we would send you a PM or make an announcement. if you have not received an PM or read any announcement about reposting then do not repost.
