Not so...

OK, Shonen Jump is an international mag that reprints Japanese Manga. Some of the manga is really good, like One Piece (despite how 4Kids Animation, butchers of anime, have made it into one of the worst things on television since "The Mullets" debuted-get fansubs, for god's sake, it's worth it!) or Rurouni Kenshin...and some is DBZ, or the one written by the guy who wrote DBZ....Bobobo-bo Bo-bobo.

The show is about a world ruled by a bald man who wanted everyone else's head shaved to be like him. The only one who fights him is a lollipop headed brain defunct guy with magic nose hairs.

Seriously, it's up there with Dokuro Chan in terms of stuff I cannot watch, for fear of brain seizure.
