Yep, "Exit to Eden" it was. I was having a senior moment when I posted yesterday.

The movie was a mess but surprisingly it had Anne Rice's approval. She admitted that it would have been impossible to get her book onscreen as written so she could philosophically accept the add-on "police comedy" and financially accept cashing a big check.

CelebrityOops.com has frames of Dana emerging from a nocturnal skinnydip, walking toward the camera. A fine figure of a woman!
