How about this for a project. They film Captain America; Yellow Jacket + the Wasp; Thor; Iron Man; Hawkeye + Mockingbird; all at the same time. One person acts as Executive Producer in order to assure all the movies maintain the same tone. Each movie is released on a 5 month schedual, and while they are out An Avengers Movie is filmed using the same actors. Who ever the Director of the Avengers movie is should be somehow involved in the other movies also, perhaps as an associate producer.

Any of the "solo" movies that make money get a sequel, and its safe to assume the Avengers movie would get sequels also.

Now cast it. . .
