Kevin do you have anymore pics of Cyborg Superman in this 'red' form? I can't find any all I get in google is the normal version. It'd be hard to manip him when I don't know what his legs or left arm look like. If anyone can provide a pic that shows his whole body, I would appreciate it.

In this form the Cyborg SM could alter his arms and legs into different shapes and weapons, so it doesn't really matter what picture I show you as they will all be different. His body remained pretty consistant and his head didn't change.
