4)You've now officially stolen the "THIS MOVIE'S GOING TO SUCK" hat from Jr. Have a nice day

dm... give me back my hat you sh!t chunking tree climber!

OK, Angel fits all superheros from the stand point that he doesn't have a real job but is rich beyond means and can afford to do anything his heart desires... why is it that all heros seem to have more money than they can handle. It is total crap any way you look at it. Even Toad is probably a rich fool.

Come on... this is the comic world... anything is possible. I mean, hell I watched Fantastic Four last night... Richards was getting "final notice" on bills... but what... he still has the cash to build that machine? COme on...

Ut oh... I forgot what else you were ranting about.... oh yeah...

Juggernaut... what a sissy... I am bigger than he is... I could kick his ass wearing nothing but a kilt and my derby. Juggs is suppose to be this HUGE man... not some little dumbdick in a helmet. Hell Trojan Man is bigger than Juggernaut.

And I really want to see Magnet-faggot suck all the metal out of Wolvie... that would be awesome! (Hey, I like Wolvie the bestest... but it would still be cool!)

And who in the hell invited Halle "Do you know what happens when a toad is struck by lightning" Berry back? DM and I said that the XMEN need Storm... just not Halle.

I think I am done....
