i had the best line ever yesterday. i was at the comic book store and bought a lot of comics w/ female main characters. the guy behind the counter (which is a good friend) asked why I only read comics with girls (that includes X-Men). I said "Simple, cause Captain America doesn't have a vagania." Water and snot not only came out of his nose, but from a few other customers.

You guys ever had one of those moments?
