Alright, mine's up. Sorry about another crappy, last-minute post. In the time we've had to work on this, I've had several good ideas, and almost none of them have had anything to do with freakin' Man Thing. Honestly, I'm glad this is over. If I lose, I'll be able to work on some of these other ideas, and if I win, whatever the assignment for the next round is is bound to interest me more. I hate to feel like I'm making excuses, but I feel I owe you guys an apology for signing up for this thing and then turning in crappy work.
