My apologies, lady and gentlemen. I've been on sabbatical for a semester while investing my spare time in an accredited "digital drawing and painting" class at the local junior college to sharpen my claws. I've just returned with my not-so-easy A.

While I'm far from perfect, or even good--I'm sharper. I'm no longer afraid of pen tools, masking, gradient meshes, Illustrator, or Painter. My new pen tablets and I understand each other now too.

Now that I'm back in the habit, may I ask for another homework assignment to keep me growing?

Thank you kindly.

Love,
-White Paw.
