Is the list on the front page just the best of the best of what was posted each week or will there be more pages to it? I am only asking because I know of at least 4 of my images that made front page and not seen them on there.

Actually the Lady HM picks of the year were picked by all of the site heralds brand new, and making it into the top ten had nothing to do with it. Each herald was given a few different months and were told to pick out their favorites. Then I took their lists that added up to around 250 and made lots of cuts until it was down to 100.
