You know they are planning on doing a Namor movie right? Imagine it... a big Hollywood movie about a d00d with elf-ears, silly wings on his feet, dressed in nothing but green underwear, who's flying around teaching people to recycle. 'Keep on polluting my sea and I will hit you. Kind of hard.'

And that's another thing... what's with all these semi-strong heroes? What the hell?! If the character is going to be strong, make him really strong. Smashing mountains strong. Throw trucks around strong. Not 'Oooh! Look! I can bend a steel bar!' -strong.
