Says the woman who just posted two drawings of a superchick in bondage...

But if the do a Namor movie wouldn't he be completely naked? That's more realistic for someone who swims ALL the time. Of course his skin will be all shrivelled like a prune. But there will also be shrinkage from the cold water.

And why does Namor have wings? Birds have wings. He should have flippers on his ankles. And pointy ears? Shouldn't they be replaced with gills?
