Hmmm, my origin here is a slightly bumpy one. For those who don't know...here goes. I had done a search for Supergirl and Catwoman, and got two photomanipulations by Serayala. I couldn't believe the detail, the colors and the transformation from the base pic to Supergirl and one of Halle Berry to Catwoman. From those pictures, it led me to Heromorph. I thought that at the time, folks who posted here were really good and newbies weren't welcome. HM only wanted the best work. That's what I thought...so I went over to C2F and posted there. I made some comments at C2F about HM's Adult Gallery that struck a nerve with Bikerbot. Some words were exchanged, insults flung my way by HMer's and then BB pm'd me with a truce, fresh start. So I began posting comments here, and pics. I tried talking in the shoutbox as much as possible to get to know folks and put the past behind. Now over a year later, I consider everyone here friends. The rest is history.
