I see that you're using my Gen X manip as the header for the front page. Did someone try and ask me about that? I changed my emails recently so it could have gone astray. Nothing in my Heromorph inbox though.

Anyway, since it is being used, any chance of a credit or link to the manip itself on the header? I don't mind it being used, but since it wasn't created for the site itself it'd be cool to get an acknowledgement that it's not the work of the site admin at least.

Thanks guys. :)
