Over 2 years ago I pm'ed almost every artist at HM and made an announcement in the forums basically telling every member here that if you post your art here, we will use it to decorate the site by using it in themes, banners, smilies, avatars or what ever else we saw fit. Since the nature of these decorations, it would be impossible to credit every artists.

But since you have an issue with this long standing rule, I have removed the theme from the rotation.
