Way back in 2004 we had a little monthly challenge called Inappropriate superhero product endorsements. It was one of the best challenges we have had since the site was originally created. It also was one of the most popular challenges that we have had (and one of the funniest). Well we are going to do it again and give everyone a little extra time to think up some crazy product endorsements.

This was originally Daruma's Idea. But basically you take a comic book character and put him/her in a commercial like image trying to sell you something. like Wolverine for Virginia Slims (You've come a long way, Bub.)

You can draw, manip, render, paint or whatever to create a advertisement image, humour is key to this one. Make them Funny. Multiple entries are welcome. The image can be and media you want - 3d/comic art/manip or what ever.

The top 2 entries will receive a custom Avatar/or Rank/ or @heromorph e-mail address (winners choice). The Winners will be decided by a poll. Moderators and heralds are exempt from prizes but can still enter for fun.

Post anytime but make sure it is before May 1st. (it is the April challenge after all)

here are some ideas

Joker for Ridlin

Cyclops for an eyewear/optometrist center

Phoenix for a funeral home

Colossus for skin care products

Killer Croc for moisturizers

Bane for an anti-drug ad

Flash for FedEx, UPS, ect...

Tick for pet products (Jr's idea)

Terminator for speech classes (Thayne_LuC's idea)

Green Lantern receiving a decoder/power ring from a Cracker Jack box (Thayne_LuC's idea)

Aquaman for Starkist Tuna

Shade for a lightbulb company

The Hulk for Anger Management

Wonder Woman for marriage counseling (Thayne_LuC's idea)

Mephisto for any church organization

Blob for Subway, Slim Fast, ect...

Wasp, Ant-Man, Queen Bee, Spider-Man ect... for insect and/or pest removal

Nightwing/Robin for rodent removal

Professor X for Rogaine
