Hmmm, yeah. This sucks big time...but, I'm out. I've debated this for months actually, but hating to quit I stuck it out. Since this round was franking, and seeing how I was coming up dry with ideas and such, it was stressing me out. I had fun with this tournament though and I think one of my best manips came out of this, and one of my best drawings and color too. So for that, it was a good contest. I also think that Dark Wanderer has shown that he has come with his game face for each round. I therefore relenquish this round to you bud, good luck in the finals.
