I want to do a cover, but what I'd like to do is to draw the main character (pencils only) and then scan the drawing (without digital improvements) into a photomanipulated background. Against the Rules? The drawing itself would be the entry.

The Draw Off is an exercise for our drawing skills. Maniping is not eligible. But if you are inspired by a draw off to do a complete image submit your drawing and by all means finish it separately using any media you wish.
