OK instead of the standard monthly challenges for the summer we are going to have something a little different.

This will be a ongoing event where everyone can get involved.

What we are going to do is have fun making images to go along with a fictional Superhero game show. Think a cross between big brother, survivor, and a real life with superheroes and villians.

Where do you come in... Well to start we need people to start signing up and give the name of the superhero that they would like to be for the start of the contest.

I am signing up and I will be doing Vampirella.

you can pick any character that you want including original HM characters. If picked a character that belongs to another member of heromorph please ask permission first. Characters do not have to be comic book characters. Once a character has been chosen they are gone, only one version of the same character is allowed. so join in fast before your character is taken.

After you sign up you will have to do a image of the character you have chosen. Post the image anytime during May and June. Put Superhero Smackdown in the title. the first image is a just a simple pinup.

Each month or so a new chapter for the script will be drafted and each artist will be given a sneak preview of the script containing their character parts and must do a image of their character for the monthly highlights article. The final script will not be finished until the images are in, also the participants can add to the final script themselves make alliances and effect the outcome of other participants be what they put in their images (ie. captions and text is welcome in the images).

We are going for humor and a good time for all. Images can be made in anyway you want to make them.

each round will have a different deadline and the deadlines will vary in length of time but will not be less then a month. Artists are also welcome to team up together or do multiple images for any one month. Both regular and adult images will be welcome. Images promotting other websites will not be excepted.

The monthly highlight article will be posted in the fan fiction section.

Sign up starts here.. I am hoping to have everyone signed up and joined in before the end of june
