Ya wanna hear about puting things in perspective? I went to the bank today wearing my favorite Spider-Man t-shirt and the attractive teller behind the counter said she liked it! Just when was about to start a conversation with her that I hoped would lead to a possible friendship (and more), she told me her son loved Spidey! That's when I knew I'd better take a lesson from Dr. Evil and "Take it downwn a notch." if I ever want to get a date.
