Whoa... that is some good sh!t.

OK, first... since Shazam technically doesn't undress... whey does his uni have buttons?

I have to agree with Bio on this. He probably draws everything in blue line and then paints the whole image. It doesn't really look like there is a hard "inked" line in any of his images. He still uses a little of an outline, but it doesn't ever appear to be Black... so, yup... painted... all painted. At least that is my two cents too.
