Saw the Ghost Rider trailer last night before that turd they call X3. It looked like it has potential. Ghost Rider looks almost perfect... has anyone else seen it? If so, what do you think?

Did the same thing.

Saw X3. Saw the trailer for GR.

If you guys read my spotlight, you would know my all-time favorite super-character is Ghost-Rider! So..... am I biased and it will be cool no matter what, or am I a stickler and it has to be perfect to pass my scrutiny?

I could not imagine how they would do my favorite character right, being a skull that's on fire and riding a bike with tires aflame also.

I saw the preview.

I was blown away.

I am on board.

they better not disappoint!

Nick Cage! ...that babe from that movie!

.... the graphics!.... him running up the building on his fire bike! ....Sam Elliot!

Oh yeah, I got high expectations.

One thing....when he is Ghost Rider, is he gonna be all "smite thee in the wrath of vengeance," or is the Ghost Rider gonna have a "humanistic quality" that I think Nick can carry over?

Know what I mean? Nicky cage is a top-notch character actor, and I would really like to see that evident in the Ghost rider persona, to give him a human dimension. like when he is done being all scary and vengeful, he can deliver great Cage-like lines like, "dude, I didn't wanna set you on fire, but you were actin like a real dick."

either way, I think I'm gonna love this movie.
