i would say yes it is art..everything in this world can be concieved as a work of art or work in progress it's the eye of the beholder ...i like poser i can draw and manip but poser allows me to express my self more i can get my visons to work better not that they all ways do..it's my perferance thats all everyone is different so if your a poser artist.manip artist or tradional who cares as long as it makes you happy thats all that matters
