Spidey probably won't be living in Stark Tower much longer. I just picked up Civil War #3 and on the last page Iron Man is beating Captain America to death. That's the cliff hanger. Then they have an image of next issue's cover: Spidey vs. Iron Man. I'm guessing that Spidey will recover some of that power/responsibility attitude and step in to stop Tony before it's too late, telling him he's gone too far. Then he'll switch sides in the war and get kicked out of the Avengers and Stark Tower. He'll have to give the new suit back and MJ and Aunt May will be without body guards and will be attacked and if not killed, seriously injured.

And since this is the Batwoman thread...I wish they'd come here for that dark costume shown below. The one she's in is too bright for a "dark knight" character.
