It's that time once again, it is time for the Heromorph/C2F crossover event. If you would like to participate just post in this thread and consider yourself onboard. If you are an artist who is at both sites, please post at the site that you would like to represent. In the event of an overnumbered amount of participants at one site, some Morphers might be teamed up with other Morphers, C2Fer and C2Fer. All attempts will be made to team up every artist with an artist from the other site. Sign up deadline is 08/13/06.

This event will have two themes....you and your partner will choose your theme from one of the following ideas:

Odd couple theme

Basically an odd couple theme between characters. For example, maybe have Captain America and Red Skull teamed up against a common foe. Or, Hellboy and Ghost Rider hunting a demon. Or, instead of one foe you could do something like Kraven helping Blade hunt vampire animals (totally out there). It doesn't always have to be a team up against someone, it could be just an odd pairing like, Firestar and Iceman on a date.

Hero/Villain showdown theme

Just as is stated. Heroes vs. Villains....any number of heroes vs. any number of villains.

So that's about it. If you have any questions, feel free to pm me.
