I seem to have more time on my hands recently...
Anyway I know there's that map thing but it never displays nice for me.

Here's a thread to state where you're from.
Let's see if we can get someone from every country in the world, all the U.S. states, all the Australian states, all the Canadian provinces and any other countries with similar.
Then we can prove we're truly global!

If you see we're missing a country and you know someone who lives there get them to log on to HM.

I'm from New Zealand, the creatively named North Island (in the North).
