Ok, so since somebody eventually has to be the one to give some kind of answer.....

1. It's nice to have an idea. Just don't be pushy about it. These guys get TONS of requests (I'd imagine daily)
2. Everyone is entitled to their opinion of how a character should look. Killing the artist's creativity just makes it hard on you.
3. Google would tell you there's software called Gimp. Which has been referred to as the poor man's photoshop. Also, digging thru this site would tell you there's a thread called new toys which has tons of free and I do mean FREE.... goodies.
4. You're on an adult site, with a bunch of people my fiance refers to as the pervert brigade.....
5. Batgirl manips at all? Dig thru the site. Try out the search box. See what you can find.
