wow, I won first and third??? Well, this brightens an otherwise bleak and horrible day. So what exactly do I win? O.K. so I would like to thank my art teacher, may he rest in piece, uh... alex ross, for making me want to be a better artist, all the little people that made this possible for whom without I would not have been able to purchase the sketchbook and pencil it took to make this happen and that part of myself that refuses to let my dreams die. Uhm, sounds pretty serious since I'm feeling a bit morose today. But, seriously, what'd I win?
