It's a Dead Man's Party!

Halloween is a special time for everybody everywhere. It's a time of friendships, long walks on the beach, staring longingly into the abyss as it stares back, and it's also an annual celebration in the Darquelmages household. It marks the day after he was hatched or dug up or whatever they do to get one one those.

So as a way to join in the celebration of both Halloween and Darques more personal holiday the draw off is all about How Monsters Party!

Draw up your favorite monsters be they from movies, games, or even... dare I say it... comics
Let's see how they throw down!

Due by the Last Stroke of Midnight Durring the Witches Hour on October 31st

You must draw this by hand, but you may do any type of finishes that you want. Since you have so much time, feel free to go crazy.

If you feel ambitious you can put the bithday boy in there as well as his bud the werewolf... they are both quite the party animals.

Darquelmages in human form.
