For those who still insist on thinking I'm from Virginia.

I'm originally from St. Louis, Missouri. Home of a giant freakin horse shoe (St. Louis Arch a.k.a. The Gateway to the West), Anheiser Busche (watered down piss beer), and Nelly. Oh and they have the baseball Cardinals and the Rams.

I now live in Springfield, Missouri. This town is proud to claim Brad Pitt. And that Wild Bill shot someone over a damn pocket watch. I know em for taxing the hell out of everyone so they can make money off the tourists headed to the Ozarks.

I wasn't born in Chesterfield, Virginia y'know. I just lived there during college.
