1st off, I'm stuck with FireFox, since my copy of MicroNaut Widows XP went fritz on me...and re-booting XP hasn't helped. Firefox is better than IE anyway...well maybe not the new IE 7 but still it is good.

2nd, every time I've tried to go into the "shout box", nothing has happened...I guess I've been banned ( Have not tried since last time I was here...22 August, I think ) and someone forgot to tell me why. you have not been banned, because if you had been banned you would not have been able to access the site to post this message or even see the site. As previously announced the shoutbox became private when the site changed to heromorph 2.0 as part of a method of controlling our bandwidth now it is restricted to gold members and regular artists. HM has multiple "open sites" and member weeks that open all features of the site to all members including the shoutbox. These events have been advertised on the site and in the forums a number of times.

Been without a ladyfriend since Patty walked out...and that REALLY puts a crimp in your life at church social functions. Church girls are sexually repressed and just bursting to be set free. treat the church like a singles bar and solve both your problems at once. It is a church after all it isn't like they have bouncers.

If you get out of line just ask for forgiveness

I am pretty sure if you say a couple hail mary's that should give you a clean slate.

The quality of work at Heromorph seems to have stayed about the same since this place "went over the wall". (I thought that, since all the Northern Boys were on "Home Turf", it'd go UP! )Most of these guys are still yankees, we only came to Canada because of the porn and the fact that our old server screwed us and we had to move anyway. So we figured What the hell lets move to where we can have the porn. if we could have found something similar in Australia or Nigeria, we would have gone there, the only thing that changed was where the server was located, the artists are the same.

My avatar sucks KcN bigtime...yet, it won't die. If you have been following the forums you would know that all you need is 100 posts to be allowed to upload your own avatar. if you don't like your av, you are the only one to blame for that.

I've got the hots for the "female persona" of one of the impersonators down at the local drag queen bar...His FEMALE appearance...I'm not into 'poles'...just 'holes'; and I'm straight as a LASER!

Why would you tell us that.....no one needs to know that.
you should bring her to a church function

AND, to top it all off, I'm spending my 50th birthday, today, at home, by myself, watching Halle Berry strut around as "Catwoman".

Yeah...20 October 1956, at 2:17PM----20 October 2006. As the russian comic Yakov Smirnoff used to say:

"WOTTA LIFE!"

( And a "best wishes" to all those having a birthday this month...)

'Wolf'

aka charlie e. tennant II HAPPY BIRTHDAY, could be worse, You could be 51.
Have a nice day
